Late surge lifts Texas women to swimming title

Despite three record-breaking victories by Stanford freshman Janet Evans, the Cardinal was unable to withstand a final charge by Texas and the host Longhorns won their sixth team title in seven years at the Division I Women's Swimming and Diving Championships.

Texas passed Stanford in the team standings in the March 15-17 meet's next-to-last event—platform diving—and then defeated the Cardinal in the 400-yard freestyle relay to give Longhorn coach Mark Schubert his first NCAA title. Richard Quick, who now coaches at Stanford and led the Cardinal to last year's crown, coached the Longhorns to their five other titles.

The race for the team title was the tightest in the meet's nine-year history, with Texas edging Stanford by only 9 1/2 points—632-622 1/2.

Still, it was the exploits of three-time Olympic gold medalist Evans in her first NCAA meet that captured most of the attention.

Evans set two American records, including a 4:34.39 time in the 500-yard freestyle that erased one of the nation's longest-standing women's marks—Tracy Caulkins' record of 4:36.25 set in 1979. The freshman also broke her own American record in the 1,650-yard freestyle and established meet records in all three of her victories, including the 400-yard individual medley.

Her teammate, Janel Jorgensen, swept the butterfly events and won the 200-yard individual medley, and the Cardinal's Jill Johnson added a victory in the 200-yard breaststroke. But those individual efforts could not overcome Texas' teamwork.

The Longhorns' only individual titlist was Leigh Ann Fetter, who set American and meet records in the preliminaries of the 50-yard freestyle before going on to win that event and the 100 freestyle. Texas, however, had five of the meet's 15 top and Whitney Hedgepeth and Stephanie Zunich added victories in the 200-yard freestyle and 100-yard breaststroke for the Lady Gators.

That trio also teamed with Loraine Perkins to give Florida an American record in the 200-yard medley relay. Their mark is not a meet record, however; that mark is held by the 1987 Texas team that counted foreign-born Tracey McFarland among its members.

American and meet records in the preliminaries of the 50-yard freestyle before going on to win that event and the 100 freestyle. Texas, however, had five of the meet's 15 top scorers. Freshman Amy Shaw's 48 points led the Longhorns, followed by senior Andrea Hayes and sophomore Katy Arris with 45 each, sophomore Dorsey Tierney with 43, and junior Feter with 40. Texas and Stanford each won two relay races.

Florida finished a strong third at the meet with 477 points. Kristen Linehan swept the backstroke events
